To Whom It May Concern,

I have known Dennis Cone since 1997, not long after he founded the Professional Caddies Association (PCA). I know that Dennis is passionate about the PCA and the caddie profession. I also know that he is not involved with PCA for personal gain, but rather for his genuine concern for the welfare of caddies specifically, and the game of golf generally.

I am comfortable recommending Dennis Cone to any company considering doing business with him and the Professional Caddies Association.

If you would like to discuss Dennis or the PCA further, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Stephen F. Mona
Chief Executive Officer
